Faculty of Law

Prospectus 2023-24

The University of Delhi is a Central University functioning under the Act of Parliament. It is recognized as an institution of national importance by the Constitution of India (Seventh Schedule, List-I, Entry-63). It was established in 1924.

The Faculty of Law was established in 1924 by the University of Delhi and is an accredited legal institution by the Bar Council of India for its LL.B. degree. The Faculty of Law has a single department – the Department of law that conducts LL.B. Classes; whereas LL.M. and Ph.D. are taken care of by the Faculty of Law.

The Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) Degree Course was initially treated as a two-year part-time Course and the teaching was conducted in the morning with ten teachers. The evening classes commenced in the year 1942. Two new courses, viz. Degree of Bachelor of Civil Laws (B.C.L.) and Certificate of Proficiency (Law) were made full-time Courses, though classes were held both in the morning as well as in the evening. With the enactment of the Advocates Act, 1961, the Certificate of Proficiency (Law) Course was abolished. The B.C.L. Degree Course was also discontinued in the year 1966.

In 1944, one year Master of Laws (LL.M.) was introduced. The LL.M. Course was made a full-time two-year Course in the year 1947. This course continues till date. Students taking admission in LL.M. (2 years) course are required to file an affidavit declaring that they are not engaged in any trade, profession, business, or employment, etc.

The mid-sixties saw the introduction of two year course titled Master of Comparative Laws (M.C.L.) for foreign students.

Around the same time LL.M. (3 Year) was introduced to enable working persons to acquire the LL.M. degree by studying the same courses of LL.M. (2 Year) spread over a period of three years.

The year 1966 was memorable in the history of the Faculty of Law and legal education in the country. The then Dean, Prof. P.K. Tripathi and his team of dedicated teachers adopted and implemented almost all the recommendations of the Gajendragadkar Committee on Legal Education, 1964 (appointed by the then Vice-Chancellor, Dr. C.D. Deshmukh.) The two-year LL.B. Course was converted into three year (six semesters) Course. With Prof. Upendra Baxi joining the Faculty of Law in 1975, it became the hub of the social-legal approach to the study of law promoting understanding of law in the context of society and the interplay of law and society.

The year 2023 is yet another remarkable year in the history of the Faculty of Law and legal education. Under the dynamic leadership of Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Singh, Vice Chancellor, University of Delhi, Prof. (Dr.) Usha Tandon, Dean, Faculty of Law and the other senior officials of the University of Delhi, the Five-Year Integrated Law Courses, i.e., B.A. LL.B. (Hons.) and BBA LL.B. (Hons.) have been introduced.

LL.B.

LL.B. in the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi is a three- year post-graduate programme. Admission to LL.B. is made strictly on the basis of merit in the Entrance Exam.

Faculty of Law

Prospectus 2023-24

The Three Law Centres of the Department of Law.

The Faculty of Law was initially located in the Prince's Pavilion in the Old Vice Regal Lodge Grounds, where presently the Anthropology Department is housed. In 1963 it was moved to its present location on Chhatra Marg, North Campus, University of Delhi.

The Faculty of Law held all evening and morning classes of LL.B., LL.M. and M.C.L. in the Faculty of Law building on Chhatra Marg prior to 1970. With the demand for increase of seats in LL.B., Law Centre-I was established in the year 1970 with 600 seats. The demand for more seats for teaching law in the evening led to the establishment of Law Centre-II with 400 seats in 1971. In 1975, the day classes of LL.B. Faculty of Law were rechristened as Campus Law Centre.

The year 2015 saw the allocation of another five story building to the Faculty of Law, namely, Umang Bhawan, by the University of Delhi. Umang Bhawan is within walking distance of about 500 meters from the main premises of the Faculty of Law. Umang Bhawan is equipped with all the modern amenities like elevators, CCTV cameras, spacious and modern classroom with multi-media facilities, etc. LL.B. classes of Law Centre-I and Law Centre-II and LL.M. are held in the Umang Bhawan. LL.B. classes for Campus Law Centre are held in the main building and those of Ph.D. scholars are held in the Umang Bhawan.

The syllabus, Reading Materials, and examination are common for LL.B. in all the three Law Centres. The Reading Materials are revised every Semester to incorporate latest changes introduced in the law by amendment or enactment of new law and judicial decisions. The reading materials are available on the website of the Faculty of Law.

LL.B. is a full-time professional course recognised and regulated by the Legal Education Rules 2008 of the Bar Council of India. In accordance with the BCI prescribed time for holding classes for students, classes for Law Centre-II are conducted from 8:00a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and for Law Centre-I from 2:00p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in Umang Bhawan. Classes for students of Campus Law Centre are held from 8.30 a.m. onwards. The timings and venue of classes for any Centre may be changed at any time without prior notice.

Teaching Methods

With the training of teachers in the case study method with the help of the Ford Foundation in the mid-1960s, Case Method had been the primary mode of teaching in the Faculty of Law. The students are given selected cases decided by the Supreme Court and High Courts on a given topic and with the help of those cases, the students learn how the legal provisions contained in the substantive, procedural, and evidence laws play a role in the decision of cases.

Faculty of Law

Prospectus 2023-24

The Faculty of Law, University of Delhi was the pioneer in adopting and propagating use of Case Method as the primary mode of teaching supplemented with lecture method. The other reading materials are also provided by the teacher concerned.

With the introduction of practical courses since the mid-1990s, the participatory clinical teaching methods like group discussions, role-plays, and simulation have been integrated with other teaching methods. With the advent of technology in classrooms, the use of multi-media has become commonplace in the teaching of law in the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi. All these developments were and are pioneering and unique in the teaching of law for any Indian law school.

LL.M. and Ph.D.

The Faculty of Law offers Master of Laws (LL.M.) (2 years and 3 years), Master of Comparative Laws (M.C.L.) (2 Years), the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) and the Doctor of Civil Laws (D.C.L.) program. These courses are taught and supervised by faculty members drawn from all the three Law Centres.

LL.M. is for Indian students while M.C.L. is offered to foreign students. Ph.D. and D.C.L. degrees may be obtained by either Indian or foreign students as per the rules of the University.

LL.M. (2 Year) is a full-time course and students seeking admission in this course are required to file an affidavit stating that they are not engaged in any trade, business, occupation, profession, or employment and will be studying the course on a full-time basis as per rules contained in the University of Delhi Ordinances.

LL.M. (3 years) course is open to working persons also. The LL.M. and M.C.L. students are given reading materials in all the courses and are available online on the website of the Faculty of Law.

The Faculty of Law has a comprehensive research program leading to the award of Ph.D. and D.C.L. degrees. Presently Ph.D. is governed by Ordinance VI, dated 9 August 2017 and its subsequent amendments published on the University of Delhi website.

Admission of Foreign Students

Foreign Students' Advisor of the University handles all enquiries regarding rules and responsibilities for admitting Foreign Students. Therefore, the applicants should approach: FOREIGN STUDENTS' REGISTRY OFFICE, Room No. 11, First Floor, Conference Centre, University of Delhi, Delhi-110007, Phone No: 011-27666756. For other details, visit the website of the Foreign Students' Registry: <https://fsr.du.ac.in/>.

The Ph.D Course Work

COURSE 03 : ANDRAGOGY: THE ART OF TEACHING ADULTS

Objectives of the Course:

It is expected that most of the Ph.D. Scholars in the Law Faculty will be joining teaching as their profession. All students in these courses are adults and teachers need to evolve their courses, teaching methods, tools, and evaluation mechanism keeping this important fact in mind. Most teachers in higher education never receive any formal training in teaching and evolve their own methods by hit and trial method keeping view their own teachers. Over the years a whole new discipline of Andragogy as distinct from Pedagogy has evolved and there is sufficient literature available on the subject. Teaching in higher education should not be only focused on sharing knowledge but also develop critical thinking among students to give them a different world view. This course is aimed at opening new vistas of perspectives towards teaching and learning as well as providing practical skills required for discharging the full range of responsibilities of a good teacher in teaching law.

This course is aimed to train teachers:

- in the skills of teaching adults
- in framing courses and reading materials
- in delivering a class
- in setting up question papers
- to objectively evaluate students' performance and give feedback

The learning outcomes of the course: It is expected that at the end of the semester, the scholars will be able to:

- communicate effectively in the class
- prepare course materials with clear aims and objectives of the course
- evaluate students' performance and progress

The course will have the following topics:

1. Adult Learning Theory - From Teaching to Learning
2. Teaching Methods – involving students in learning
3. Teaching tools
4. Preparing Courses and Reading Materials
5. Preparing a class plan
6. Communication Delivering a class
7. Setting Question Papers
8. Evaluation and Feedback

Doctor Of Philosophy (Ph.D.)

(As Per Ordinance VI as Amended on August 9, 2017) Procedure for Admission and its subsequent amendments
